

As good as it gets?

Federal spending is out of control under the Obama administration. The health care individual mandate is socialist. President George W. Bush presided over the slowest job growth in half a century.

None of these statements – by Republican presumptive nominee Mitt Romney, conservative pundits, and President Barack Obama respectively – stands up to scrutiny.