

Bree Smith a hit on national TV

On Tuesday, January 20, Channel 5 (KSDK) meteorologist Bree Smith appeared on the Today Show and made the people of the area proud. Smith was invited to do the weather with Al Roker in the 8 am segment after St. Louisians contributed more than any other city to a Today Show fund raiser (for food). The winning city's NBC affiliate got their weathercaster on the Today Show to present the weather with Al Roker. Her performance? Just about perfect.
