

Letter to the editor: On “Progress of the Beacon/KWMU merger”

Dear editor, I urge you to make Terry Ganey’s story from last fall about the Beacon/Public Radio available online. Few people in daily journalism, current or former, have seen it. (The two Post-Dispatch staff members who are quoted in the story aren’t aware of its publication.) Plus, it’s odd not to publish online a story about an online publication. I’d also suggest that you expand on the passage about the Beacon’s, and Public Radio’s, extraordinary interest in chess.
